

Speaker Introduction

It is our distinct honor today to welcome an extraordinary leader and healthcare innovator—Dr. Prince Baawuah, Founder, CEO, and Chief Tutor of The HEALS Academy. Dr. Prince’s journey is as inspiring as it is impactful. With a background in public health, a Doctor of Public Health (DrPH), and a Master of Public Health (MPH), Dr. Prince combines his academic expertise with real-world experience to simplify healthcare systems for professionals and communities alike. His work is rooted in a mission to make the complex US health systems and decisions easy to understand, empowering organizations, families, and communities to make informed choices.

As a Certified Scrum Master (CSM®), Dr. Prince brings unique skills in strategic planning, agility, and organizational efficiency, helping healthcare professionals and organizations adapt to the ever-evolving landscape of health systems. Through The HEALS Academy, he offers specialized consulting, training, and coaching, focusing on making healthcare literacy, risk adjustment, and health benefits accessible and actionable.

Dr. Prince’s vision is to transform generations to lead and win in their health. He believes that knowledge should be empowering, not overwhelming, and his work reflects this dedication to simplicity and clarity. As a speaker, Prince is known for his engaging style and his ability to make even the most complex healthcare topics approachable and relevant.

Today, we have the privilege of learning from a leader whose expertise, passion, and innovative approach are setting new standards in health system literacy. Please join me in welcoming Dr. Prince Baawuah.
